

RABBI TO SPEAK ON NAZI PERSECUTION

Aspects Of Encouragement Seen By Silverman

The recent trend of Jewish persecution in Germany will be reviewed by Rabbi Myron Silverman at Sabbath Eve services at Temple Emanu-El at 8 tonight.

"The ghastliness of recent events in Germany beggar description," Rabbi Silverman said. "Yet certain aspects of the situation engender comfort and encouragement in this tragic hour. What are they? What is there for us as Jews to do?"

Rabbi Silverman will conduct a children's service at Temple Emanu-El at 10:30 a. m. tomorrow.

In vogue during the 1890s, ornamental plates were made with postage stamps pasted on them in various designs.
